Microdisney | The Clock Comes Down the Stairs (1985)

INTRO

G D C Am7 (x2)

VERSE 1

G D C Am7
They opened up a cocktail bar
G D C Am7
In the shadow of Engels Court
G D C Am7
Now folks dress up and spend their cash
G D C Am7
You can't deny their London pride

C D
They say "Who won the war?
Am7 Dadd6
Who ruled the world?
C D
Who showed them all?"
Am7 D
Well who cares?

CHORUS 1

Dm Am Gm7 C
Run from the past
Dm Am Gm7 C
In to the past

VERSE 2

G D C Am7
Your job will go, your house will go
G D C Am7
But they will wave from their video

C D
And the police
Am7 Dadd6
Will be there as well
C D
With a boot or gun
Am7 D
To cry out

CHORUS 1

INTERLUDE

F C Dadd6

Into the past she ran

Fmaj7 G Am

Underschooled and underfed

F C Dadd6

And she runs through the deaf city

Fmaj7 G Am G

Looking for a well-paid job

Fmaj7 G Fmaj7

And she finds it on the gin house floor

G D C Am7 (x2)

VERSE 3

C D

(And the papers always say) "Go back to work

Am7 Dadd6

You're all a lone

C D

Old fashioned, weak

Am7 D

And chil dish"

CHORUS 2

Dm Am Gm7 C

Run from the past

Dm Am Gm7 C

In to the past

Dm Am Gm7 C

You got to run from the past

Dm Am Gm7 C

In to the past, yeah
