VERSE 1

C#m F#m7 E F#m7

One October losing his job

C#m F#m7 B F#m7

He was drinking heavily

C#m F#m7 E F#m7

Living in his mother's house

C#m F#m7 B F#m7

Wild at weekends and sleeping all week

B F# C#m7

He believed he was right to ask for things

B F# C#m7

To be his and for him alone

B F# C#m7

And the world wasn't right with him unless

B F# C#m7

His wish was the world's command

VERSE 2

C#m F#m7 E F#m7

Drunk in town one Saturday night

C#m F#m7 B F#m7

He met a tall blonde older girl

C#m F#m7 E F#m7

In complicated Bohemian clothes

C#m F#m7 B F#m7

She took him home though he was an oaf

B F# C#m7

Making love was his way of asking her

B F# C#m7

To be his and for him alone

B F# C#m7

And though she would always act offhand

B F# C#m7

It appeared that she understood

CHORUS 1

D D7 Gmaj7

With the weeks passing by he began to feel the

Em7

bad had gone

D D7 Gmaj7 FADE
In her candlelit room he had found himself but

Em7 B F# C#m7
what about her?

VERSE 3

C#m F#m7 E F#m7
Then he noticed something amiss

C#m F#m7 B F#m7
Other men kept calling around

C#m F#m7 E F#m7
When, one night, he had his proof

C#m F#m7 B F#m7
He confronted his liberal love

B F# C#m7
He believed he was right to tell her

B F# C#m7
She was his and for him alone

B F# C#m7
And shrugging her shoulders, sad but calm

B F# C#m7
She informed him that he was wrong

CHORUS 2

D D7
"You don't own me," she sighed. "But I do, I must,"

Gmaj7 Em7
he groaned, then yelled

D D7 Gmaj7 Em7
"Oh what is this liberal love you gave, it's fast, it's wrong."

D D7
"You don't own me," she sighed. "But I do, I must,"

Gmaj7 Em7
he groaned, then yelled

D D7 Gmaj7 Em7
"What is this liberal love you gave?"
